Tutoring

We encourage faculty to offer students at least one optional synchronous online learning activity in each course. Start with the course and student learning objectives to select an activity.

Consider:

- What student outcomes are best achieved through face-to-face or real-time online interactions?
- What student outcomes are best achieved through pre-loaded online course content and design?

You may also refer to iDEA Pro-Tips for Learning Activities \(PDF\) for guidance on selecting the optimal synchronous activity.
